SCHOOL NOTES

The county superintendent of schools has received so many inquiries regarding the work of the county normal for next year that it seems best to send out a letter of general information concerning the school.

Prof. Nelson L. Stear, a graduate of the Department of Education of Ohio State University is director of the Medina County Normal, but as he is attending school at Ohio State this summer, correspondence in regard to the Normal will be taken care of by County Superintendent C. E. Jenks until Sept. 1. After that time letters addressed to Prof. Stear will receive his attention.

The coming year county normal students will be given courses in the History of Education by Supt. W. S. Edmund of Medina, in Psychology and Principles of Education by Normal Director N. L. Stear and in English and Methods of Teaching by County Supt. C. E. Jenks.

In addition pupils are required to take a course in Domestic Science and Household Economics under Miss Ethel Rimes, and in Public School Music under Mrs. Zoe Prouty Boulton.

Besides this academic and special instruction, each student has to put in a certain number of hours of observation, work and practice teaching under the direction of Mr. Stear. Tuition in all this work is free, as the County Normal is a state-supported institution.

Students who finish one year's work in the County Normal work satisfactorily, receive a one-year teacher's certificate, which is renewable for three years, after one year of successful teaching, without examination.

This rule applies to high school graduates and the county superintendent and normal director wish it understood that the normal school is intended mainly for high school graduates, as they feel that no one ought to teach in the grades of the country who has not at least a high school education.

From the number of letters already received it is evident that there will be a large attendance at the county normal the coming year. Students who attend this school become acquainted with the county and district superintendents, who are thus able to place desirable graduates in good positions. The past year every girl who took this work secured a teaching position in the county.

Normal work will also be given on Saturdays, as during the past year. Additional courses in almost any subject can be given this year, owing to the fact that Mr. Hawk and Mr. Rhode, the two district men, will both be located at Medina.

Chas. D. Wheeler Supervisor of Extension Schools for Ohio State University, has sent out a letter to County Superintendent Jenks, in which he states that, notwithstanding the splendid interest shown in the stock-judging instruction given by Mr. Wulchert to the boys of Medina county, only 12 boys have signed the entry cards for participation in the contest at the county fair in September. The list from this county is as follows: Brunswick: E. B. Gibbs, Howard Leinseder, Homer Howard, Howard Chapman, Karl Rau; Litchfield: Russell Camfield; Lodi: Harry Krieger, Clair Jamison and Donald Kindig; Medina Township: Henry Wente; Liverpool: Richard Reutler.

This is a very poor showing and it is to be hoped that the teachers, farmers and others interested will see that a large number of boys enter at once in order to get bullpens and other instructions sent out by the State University. The county superintendent has a large supply of these blanks on hand and will gladly furnish them to any one desirous of entering the contest. There is no expense of any kind connected with this contest and even tho a boy fails to win a prize, (the largest being $50,) he is still far ahead, because of the instruction received. Entrance blanks should be sent to Clark D. Wheeler, College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio and to O. O. VanDeusen, Secretary Medina County Fair Board, Medina, Ohio.

We believe that the people of Homer, Chatham, Spencer, Guilford, Westfield, Granger, Sharon, Hinkley, York and other splendid agricultural townships, are not willing that their townships be unrepresented in a contest where the fair board has offered such fine prizes and where the State University is offering free instruction. Medina village high school as yet has no contestant and Litchfield but one, Leroy and Seville none. Don't let this splendid contest die out for lack of interest.

Miss Mabel McDougal, primary teacher at Medina, is teaching in the Wooster Summer School. Her work has met with such splendid success that she has been employed for three county institutes after finishing her work at Wooster this week.

REALTY VALUES INCREASE

The report of Assessor Samuel Andrews to the Medina tax commissioner shows that the real estate valuation for 1915 in Wadsworth village is $2,542,610, a gain over 1914 of $273,380. The personal property valuation is $433,090, a gain of $50,985. This makes a total village tax duplicate of $2,975,700, with a total gain of $324,365.

EUROPE IN 1870 AND 1915.

the hands of the victorious German army.

In a cabin, belonging to a poor laborer, about 2 miles from Sedan, Napoleon and Bismark, the Prussian chancellor, met to consider the terms. At this time he was asked if he would enter into peace parleys, to which the emperor replied that as a prisoner of war he had no power to decide the destiny of the French people, but the council and the emperor at Paris would have to act in the future affairs of the nation.

As soon as possible the meeting between the emperor and the king of Prussia was arranged and at that time Napoleon surrendered his sword to the king.

Bulletins appeared in all leading the surrender of Sedan in the following words: "The emperor has surrendered himself and his army to me alone." (signed) WILHELM.

While the te-deums were sung in mourning for her brave sons and arrangements were made to transport the army of Sedan to Prussian concentration camps. It was a sight that will never be forgotten, when at about 11 o'clock on September 2, regiment after regiment marched out of the city to the plain surrounding, there to stack arms, and to disband as an army.

A brief address to the troops was read to all from the emperor, in which he praised the army for the deeds of valor performed, assuring all that it was impossible to continue the uneven struggle, hence his duty to his people compelled him to take this step.

Many of our officers broke their swords over their knees rather than to surrender them to the enemy as trophies of victory. The hardest blow was to fall, when we were compelled to lower our standard before the flag of Prussia. But such are the vicissitudes of war.

Germany had tried hard to follow the old lines of campaign in the present titanic struggle, especially the attacking in mass formation, regardless of the sacrifices of men made necessary by such warfare under present changed conditions. It remains to be seen whether or not she will succeed.

The big steel arches here arrived for the new opera house and work will be resumed at once.

Miss Eleanor Lemmon called upon friends here last Friday.

C. F. Schlegel and family drove over from Sherman, O., where they live, for a call upon old friends and neighbors last Sunday.

O. H. Bensinger has taken the position as salesman for the Grand Union Tea Co., in this territory.

Mrs. S. Thomas, widow of our former school superintendent, of Ann Arbor, Mich., paid her old home a short visit last week.

The continued storms and wet weather are making the farmers nearly distracted. Hay to put up, wheat to haul and oats now ready to cut make a little unusual combination to work out.

Considerable unfavorable comment has been made by the newspapers in this vicinity on the child labor conditions as found on the garden farm of the Horr-Warner Co. here. These same conditions as described by some over-zealous state officials sent here for the purpose, have obtained here for the past twenty years. Our citizens and officials are quick to take notice and correct any and all existing evils arising from this or any other cause and feel that no wrong has been done and we firmly believe that not a single case can be cited where any injury can be attributed to over work or unsanitary conditions. The children who labor are well paid and not compelled by the company or their parents to work, only when they so choose, and are under very competent and considerate "bosses." It seems to us to be a "far cry" from those not directly interested and we feel sure that no complaints have been entered by parents or guardians of those who are employed. This is a case of vital interest to our entire community and should be taken up and discussed with those authorities who have it in charge.
